SCAMP 2011

...blurring the line between school and camp!

SCAMPS 2011 - More Summer Fun at Nay Aug Park

The Gardner School is announcing a Summer SCAMP schedule that incorporates Art, Performance Art, learning skills, and photography. This summer we will sponsor outdoor camps at Nay Aug Park, and an acting intern program in conjunction with Scranton Public Theater that will take place in the Olde Brick Theater in North Scranton.

If you are looking for a summer program for your children that will include both skill development and lots of fun, the Gardner School SCAMPS are for you!

Our Lineup!

SCAMP for Beginning Actors

Dates: June 27—July 1

Time: 9AM to 1 PM

Grade Levels: Grade 2 through Grade 5

Site: Nay Aug Park (meet at the Everhart)

Fee: $150 (lunch inc.)

Children will work with veteran Scranton Public Theater Actors in a workshop focusing on acting, dramatic reading, visual design, and production. This fun-filled week will incorporate story telling, dramatic reading, scene design, and performing small scenes from popular children's literature.

Legos and Art SCAMP

Dates: July 11—July 15

Time: 9AM to 1 PM

Grade Levels: Grade 2 through Grade 5

Site: Nay Aug Park (meet at the Everhart)

Fee: $150 (lunch inc.)

Michael Sorrentino will be reprising his summer program with a week long exploration of visual art that will include Lego Art, photography, and sketching. Art projects will be created on site in the park and students will host an exhibit of their work at the park on Friday, then take home their completed portfolios for home exhibits.

Advanced Drama SCAMP

Dates: July 11—July 22

Time: 9AM to Noon

Grade Levels: Grade 5 through Grade 8

Site: Olde Brick Theater

Fee: $250

This SCAMP is for serious acting students who will work with SPT actors in preparing their own production. This collaboration with Scranton Public Theater includes an opportunity for students to intern with the regional theater veterans. SPT is preparing their own production schedule for the summer and SCAMP students will be on hand for a behind the scenes look to see what a life in the theater is truly like.
